PENNSYLVANIA FLOODS.

The Susquehanna Valley Inundated—
Bursting of the Great Boom at Williamsport.

Thousands of People Houseless and Homeless—Great Alarm and Distress.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 21.—The great boom here broke early this morning and sixty million logs were swept away. The Susquehanna river has risen to 33 feet, and there is a six foot flood through many of the streets. The Pennsylvania railroad bridge over the river is standing the pressure. Four spans of the Market street bridge have been washed away, and three of the four spans of the Maynard street bridge have gone. No lives have been lost here.

LEWISBURG, Pa., May 21.—The whole Susquehanna valley is inundated and the destruction and destitution is widespread. The water works, gas works and electric light plant of this city are flooded and the town suffers seriously in consequence. Hundreds of families are destitute of provisions and homeless, and the night is entered upon with a feeling of horror. Millions of feet of logs and cut lumber, and buildings of every kind have been swept past here in the river since yesterday. Business has been entirely suspended.

HOLIDAYSBURG, May 21.—The reports of the bursting of the reservoir kept 30,000 Blair country people homeless and homeless last night. At midnight a Pennsylvania railroad locomotive brought the warning to Gettysburg that the Kittanning point reservoir, the source of the Altona cities' water supply, had given way and the country would soon be covered with millions of gallons of water. A Gaysport telegraph operator later received this message from Kittanning: "The dam has burst, for God's sake tell the Gaysport people to fly." The result of these warnings was that the entire population at Gaysport, Duncansville and West Holidaysburg deserted their homes and spent the night on the hills. This morning the danger was announced to be over, and the people returned to their homes.

BELLWOOD, May 21.—The citizens fearing a break in the Potts grove reservoir opposite their town out the embankment in an abovate and safe direction last night.

The steam schooner Mischief has been secured for the use of the judges in the yacht races Friday.

THE Supreme Court of Canada yesterday unanimously dismissed the appeal of the sealing schooner Minnie from condemnation by the Admiralty court of British Columbia. Counsel for the Crown was not called upon; Mr. Belyea (Belyea & Gregory) argued for the shipowners.

MR AND MRS. J. MYER have returned from an extended wedding tour through the United States, Europe and Canada, and leave this evening for their new home in Seattle. Accompanying them from Victoria will be Miss Leah Phillips, in honor of whose departure a surprise party was held in the Hebrew ladies' association hall last evening. The principal amusement participated in by the party during the evening was dancing, for which an Italian orchestra of a harp and two violins provided pleasing music.

The lacrosse boys are getting down to hard, earnest practice, and the coming match on Saturday with Vancouver promises to be an intensely interesting contest. His Honor Lieut. Governor Dawdney has consented to be present and face the ball in the opening game. The club, in order to encourage the attendance of ladies, have placed the membership season ticket at the low price of $1, which includes a seat on the grand stand. A large number of tickets have been disposed of. They can be procured from the Secretary, R. L. Drury, or from Treasurer W. J. Burnes.

THE appearance of the Chicago Lady Quartette at the Victoria yesterday evening, was an occasion of genuine and hearty pleasure to the musical. The audience was unfortunately small, though thoroughly appreciative, but the ladies of the club, under Miss Alice Merrill Raymond's conductorship, gave just as complete and in every way satisfactory a concert as though "standing room only" had been at a premium. The quartette singing of Misses Weaver, Ludwig, Fabian and Raymond, was delightfully finished, and the selections, one and all, in good taste and well suited to the voices. Macy's "Waltz Song" was given first, followed by the "Cradle Song" (Neidinger), "Lady Bird" (Cowen), "Da Koven's" "The Owl and the Pussy Cat," and Macy's "Last Rose of Summer." Miss Cornelia Neltner, the great impersonator, was the popular favorite of the evening, her several recitations being given with grace, archness and artistic finish, and being received with every mark of strong appreciation. A novelty was Miss Weaver's whistling—musical, chic and charming; decidedly a feature of the evening and a pleasing one.

Neat, New and Comfortable.

Messrs. Jackson & Petrie, of the Delmonico hotel, have been giving their ground floor a thorough remodeling with very satisfactory and artistic results. The old bar has been replaced by a very handsome structure in Spanish cedar and plate glass from the factory of Weiler Bros., and the billiard room entirely shut off from the club rooms in the rear, and neat and attractive paper and general fittings have been combined to secure the best effect. The bar has been re-stocked with the best brands and everything is in readiness for the rush during the holiday week.

I had a severe cold, for which I took Norway Pine Syrup. I find it an excellent remedy, giving prompt relief and pleasant to take.

EDMUND YATES.

Death of the Well Known Journalist, Author and Theatrical Critic.

LONDON, May 21.—Edmund Yates, author and journalist, was stricken with apoplexy on Saturday evening at the Garrick theatre, where Lytton's "Money" was being played. He was removed to the Savoy hotel, where he died yesterday afternoon. He would have been sixty-three years old in July had he lived. Edmund Yates was the son of a well known actor, some time lessee of the Adelphi, and was born in July, 1831. For many years he was chief of the missing letter department in the post office, and was author of a number of popular works. He also wrote some dramas and was theatrical critic for the Daily News for six years, edited the Temple Bar Magazine, in which his novel "Broken to Harness," appeared, in 1864-5, was the first editor of Tinsley's Magazine, and a constant contributor to All the Year Round, in which his novel "Black Sheep" was the leading serial in 1866-7. In May, 1872, Mr. Yates retired from the post office to devote himself entirely to literature. In the course of that year he went on a lecturing tour in the United States, and in May, 1873, was appointed London representative of the New York Herald, which post he resigned in July, 1874, when he established "The World, a Journal for Men and Women," which has a wide circulation, and of which he was sole proprietor and editor. In November, 1884, Mr. Yates published two volumes of "Personal Reminiscences and Experiences," an autobiography which has gone through four editions. Mr. Yates was in 1884 indicted for libel on the Earl of Lonsdale, and was sentenced by the Lord Chief Justice to four months imprisonment.

MANCHESTER SHIP CANAL.

Formal Opening by Her Majesty Mid the Greatest Amount of Enthusiasm.

The Formal Procession—Trip of the Royal Yacht Up the Channel.

MANCHESTER, May 21.—The formal opening of the Manchester ship canal was accomplished to-day amid the greatest enthusiasm. When the Queen arrived at the station the cheering of the crowds was deafening. Her Majesty at once entered one of the royal carriages, which had been sent to this city in advance, and was driven to the town hall, where she was presented with an address. From the town hall the Queen and party were driven to Trafford wharf. All along the eight miles of streets the course was driven, the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Hundreds of thousands of people led the way. Banners, flags, floral arches, Venetian masts were visible everywhere, and the air resounded with cheers. The Queen was escorted from the station to the town hall and thence to Trafford wharf by a guard of honor, consisting of a field officer escort of the 14th Hussars. The guard comprised Major Hamilton (in command) two captains, four subalterns and 100 non-commissioned officers and men. As the procession left the station a troop of yeomanry fell in the rear and accompanied the royal carriage to Albert square. Four guards of honor were stationed at the town hall, All Saints' church, Salford; and St. George's church, Chester Road, Hulme. The various guards of honor comprised about 1,000 men and 5,000 troops guarded the streets through which the Royal procession passed. Arriving at the Trafford wharf, the Queen embarked on board the royal yacht Enchantress which at once steamed up the channel in the vicinity of the Salford docks, where she formally declared the Manchester ship canal open to commerce. Returning to Trafford wharf Her Majesty re-entered her carriage and was driven to Salford, where she was presented with an address by the Mayor and other authorities of the corporation. The enthusiasm of Salford was manifested in quite as marked a manner as that of the people of Manchester. The streets and buildings were magnificently decorated and the inhabitants turned out en masse to take part in the celebration of the occasion. After leaving Salford Her Majesty was escorted to the station, and at 7:30 o'clock started for Balmoral. During the exercises the Queen conferred the honor of knighthood upon the Lord Mayor of Manchester, the Mayor of Salford and Mr. Joseph Leigh, M.P., son-in-law of Mr. David Adamson, chief promoter and first chairman of the Manchester Ship Canal Company.

ALEXANDER OF SERBIA.

The Minor Monarch Changes the Entire System of Things in His Little Kingdom.

BELGRADE, May 21.—King Alexander, by royal decree, has abolished the constitution of 1888 and restored that of 1869, giving the King the right to appoint one-third of the members of the Chamber of Deputies. This abrogates the scrutin de liste system and the secret ballot. All laws under the 1888 constitution are revoked. The Premier has been ordered to form a new cabinet. The Skuptschina will be immediately dissolved. Radicals are intensely excited over the action of the King. The decree was read to the troops to-day, and a number of military officers whose loyalty was suspected have been retired, while many of the Radical leaders, fearing arrest, have fled. The Radical peasantry have been disarmed. Much disorder is expected, but civil war is not apprehended.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Col. Prior and the Permanent Force Pension List—Subject to Have Consideration.

Westminster Penitentiary Investigation—Resolution Introduced in Favor of Universal Peace.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
OTTAWA, May 21.—Col. Prior moved a resolution in favor of the adoption of a pension list applicable to the permanent force. He had expected to see a bill introduced into the House this year on this subject. The permanent corps were Canadian regulars and formed the nucleus of the militia. They did the same work as the Imperial regulars and came under the same discipline, but there the similarity ended. The Imperial troops got better pay and a pension. In Canada the regulars received inferior pay and no pension. To keep the force up to a state of perfection the proposal which he made ought to be carried out.

Mr. Davin seconded the motion.

Hon. Mr. Patterson, after congratulating Mr. Prior upon the lucidity of his remarks, admitted that there was much force in many of his statements. He did not wish the impression to go to the country that the Government were indifferent to the interests of the permanent force. This would be unjust to the Government and unjust to the House, because the House, irrespective of party, had dealt liberally with the retired officers of the permanent force. If the motion were withdrawn he would lay the matter before the Government.

Mr. Wood introduced a bill to provide that honey, Paris green and white lead must be stamped as pure if exposed for sale.

Mr. Foster, accountant of Dominion penitentiaries, has been appointed to take charge of the Westminster penitentiary, pending Judge Drake's investigation, Warden McBride and Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons meanwhile being relieved from duty.

Mr. Edgar's motion in favor of universal peace was adopted.

Ontario Politics.

LONDON, May 21.—Mr. W. R. Meredith arrived on Friday night, and was received by the mayor and officers of the Conservative association and hundreds of his admirers. He was escorted by a torchlight procession and several bands to his brother's residence, where he addressed the crowd. The East Middlesex Liberals have nominated R. W. Jackson for the Legislature.

A Self-Confessed Liar.

GUELPH, May 21.—William Ross, a wood dealer of this city, who claimed to have been gagged and robbed of $600 and beaten insensible by three masked highwaymen, who afterwards threw him into a swamp, has confessed that he had concocted the story of the affair himself as a blind to cover up his losses of money in business transactions.

Workmen Seriously Prejudiced.

STRATFORD, May 21.—About 500 men are affected by the closing down of the G. T. R. locomotive works here.

Kingstonians Drowned.

KINGSTON, May 21.—Capt. John McCullough, who was drowned off the Cummings in Milwaukee harbor, belonged to Kingston. He is a native of Wolfe Island. Thomas Turcotte, another missing man, belonged to Kingston also.

MONTREAL MATTERS.

Laurier's Misstatement Corrected—Cattle Shipments—U. S. and Canadian Conditions Contrasted.

MONTREAL, May 21.—(Special)—Hon. Senator Drummond wrote a few days ago to Hon. W. Laurier informing him that his statement at Pembroke that he (Hon. Mr. Drummond) received a salary of $60,000 a year as manager of Redpath's sugar refinery was untrue. The Opposition leader has replied withdrawing the statement in question. The statement had, he said, been made repeatedly in the country during the past three years, and he had never seen it challenged or denied.

The cattle shipments last week were not so extensive as during the previous week. The total was only 1,597 head.

Vice President Shaughnessy, of the C.P.R., arrived here yesterday from the coast. To your correspondent he said that compared with the cities of the south which he had passed through, Winnipeg, Brandon, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and other Canadian towns and cities visited by the party appeared to be in a most healthy condition. Mr. Shaughnessy said he found the farmers somewhat disappointed owing to the low prices of wheat, but they did not seem to be at all discouraged.

A big fire took place in a St. Paul street stable. Two horses and a man named Thomas Esphurs were killed by suffocation. The carpenters' strike is still unsettled.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Four Days Steady Rain—Damage to Property by Floods—Races Postponed.

TORONTO, May 21.—(Special)—It has rained here for the past eighty-four hours and is still raining. The damage to property in the city by the flood is considerable. The house occupied by a Chinese laundryman on Jarvis street was blown down last night. The damage is trifling and no one was injured.

Owing to the soaked condition of the course the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's May meeting, which had been fixed for to-morrow, has been postponed till Thursday.

Ordained to the Methodist Ministry—Provincial Politics in North Yale.

(Special to the COLONIST.)

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 21.—T. Neville, of this city, and S. S. Osterhaut, of Naas river, were ordained to the ministry in the Central Methodist church yesterday morning in presence of a very large congregation. Rev. T. W. Hall, president of the conference officiated, assisted by several other ministers, and Rev. Mr. Crosby, of Fort Simpson, preached the sermon. Rev. Mr. Neville goes to the Upper Skeena and Rev. Mr. Osterhaut returns to Naas.

The Sons of England, 50 strong, paraded to Holy Trinity cathedral yesterday, where Rev. T. T. Gowen preached the annual sermon.

A centipede two and a half inches long was discovered on Saturday in a box of apples which came from Australia by the last steamer.

Jack McCabe, the wounded convict, is not expected to live over to-morrow.

The Delta Opposition convention to-day resulted in the choice of Thomas Forster, M.P.P. Delta, Surrey and Langley each sent six delegates, and Two and a Half Mile Belt two. Mr. Forster and E. Hutchinson, Delta, were nominated. Mr. Forster got thirteen and Hutchinson seven on the first ballot. Then on motion of Mr. Hutchinson a unanimous nomination was given to Mr. Forster.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, May 21.—C. Wynn-Johnson, MacLachlan's partner, chartered the steamer Exchange yesterday and started off on a fresh search for the missing man. He will make a thorough scrutiny of the coast along the island as far as Comox, cross over to Texada Island and visit all intermediate islands and then proceed to the Mainland. Mr. Johnson is confident that MacLachlan has not been drowned and will spare no trouble or expense in hunting him up.

The Nanaimo Gas Company will at once set about the erection of a new gasometer, with, it is to be hoped, the early reduction in the price of gas. At present the ruling price is $3 per thousand feet, and it is understood that when the proposed improvements are completed this rate will be reduced 50 cents.

Nothing definite has been settled so far with regard to the erection of new electric light works. The street lighting system is again in operation, but gas or coal oil reign supreme in the stores and private house. It is not expected that steps will be taken to replace the light works until the electric railway question is settled. A report is current that negotiations are pending for the purchase of the old Nanaimo brewery, on the Millstream adjoining Haslam's saw mill, to be used as the power house for the joint electric railway and light station.

The Caledonian grounds, which have undergone extensive improvement, are to be re-opened on June 30.

The building up of Wellington is going on apace. Three new stores are now in course of construction.

The funeral of the late Alderman Ralph D. Conran took place yesterday afternoon in the presence of probably the largest concourse of people ever seen in Nanaimo, and this in spite of most disagreeable weather. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. A. McKee, pastor of St. Andrew's church, of which the deceased had been an elder. The Masonic service was also read by the master of Doric lodge.

It is reported that the defunct Telegram is to be resuscitated shortly by a local company and to be conducted as a Government paper. The principal shareholders are business men.

The steamer Montserrat, Captain Blackburn, arrived yesterday afternoon from San Francisco to load coal. The Montserrat has made thirty-one trips between San Francisco and this port within the past year and three days, beating all previous records. She made the last trip up in three days and twelve hours. Shipping has been dull during the past few days, but there is promise of a change within the next few days. The ship Sergeant arrived last evening. The steamer Crown of England will be in on Wednesday, and a number of sailing ships, including the Glory of the Seas, Sea King, J. B. Brown, Highland Light, and Yosemite, may be expected any day.

Mr. James Works, of Wellington, has gone down to San Francisco to superintend the erection of extensive coalyards and bunkers now in course of construction for the Dunsmuir, at a cost, it is said, of $250,000.

The selection of an Opposition candidate for South Nanaimo promises to prove a difficult matter. The Gabriola Island settlers want to bring out Alex. Shaw, ex. in Cedar and Cranberry districts. C. C. McKenzie is the favorite among those opposed to the present Government, and in what is known as the Five Acre Lots, Tully Boyce is most popular.

DUNCAN.

DUNCAN, May 21.—N. P. Snowden, W. F. Burton and other Victorians were busy with the rod on Saturday in the Cowichan river at Sahlam and near Duncan. Mrs. and Miss Drake have been at the Quamichan hotel paying a short visit in this pleasant neighborhood.

A Queen's birthday picnic is to be held at Duncan on the 24th. Sports and a cricket match, married v. single, have been arranged, and a pleasant day is being looked forward to.

Panthers are reported to be plentiful at Cowichan lake, and another of the animals is said to be prowling around Maple bay.

Mr. Tingley is making a business visit in the interests of the Great West Life assurance company and has met with considerable success.

The heat has been almost summer-like for the last few days, causing a rapid growth of the backward vegetation.

Rev. Bishop Perrin preached at St. Peter's church, Quamichan, to a good congregation yesterday, returning to Victoria by this morning's train. Judge Drake was also a passenger to Victoria to-day's train.

A horse valued at $175 was being driven by Angus McKinnon at Duncan station and could have easily crossed the track before a coming freight engine reached the crossing. The horse, however, turned and made straight for the engine by which it was

KAMLOOPS.

(From the Sentinel.)

Six inches of snow lay on the ground at Clinton one morning last week.

D. H. Gillman, of Seattle, and James P. Kimball, of New York, on Thursday took a trip to the Glen Iron mine in the interests of some American gentlemen who propose again operating it, if not buying.

Mr. Bostock, of Ducks, returned home from Skamoon on Mr. Van Horne's special, and is now on a trip to Grande Prairie and Salmon River Valley. He says there are five thousand acres of good land between Skamoon and Craigellachie, and a wagon road would cause an influx of settlers to that district.

Messrs. Elston and Banff, of Enderby, stayed a day or two in Kamloops this week. They are bound for the mouth of the Fraser and are determined to make the whole way in their canoe.

The electors turned out in force for the meeting in Raven's hall which formally opened the political campaign in North Yale. Thomas Roady presided by request of the meeting. John T. Edwards, the first speaker, announced himself as a candidate in opposition to Geo. B. Martin, M.P.P. He had no complaint against the government except in the matter of the parliament buildings, but for their action in this respect he considered them blameworthy. He had nothing good to say on behalf of the present Opposition, and therefore asked to be returned as an Independent, and if the Davis Government should be returned he promised to cheerfully support them in all measures which he considered in the interest of the Province. Mr. Martin followed, and was very well received. In soliciting a continuance of the support of the constituency he pointed out that he had been opposed to the parliament building expenditure, but the house having decided against him by a large majority he recognized that the Province being under constitutional government the majority must rule. He dwelt upon the attention he had given to the needs of Yale, and the gratifying results to be noticed throughout the constituency. Hewitt Bostock next came forward, declaring that he had intended to be a candidate, but found that he had not resided in the province long enough to be nominated. H. McCutcheon made a long speech denouncing nearly all the expenditures of the Government, including that for the Westminster bridge, and he formally nominated Mr. Edwards. James McIntosh nominated Mr. Martin, in whose favor he made an able address. Cheers for the candidates closed the proceedings.

NELSON.

(From the Tribune.)

George Laform, the Big Bend packer, while here purchased Henry Harshaw's pack train of eighteen animals. Mr. Laform is one of the four owners of the Consolidation placer mine on French creek, the other owners being John Sweeney, O. B. Williams and James McCreary. At present there are six men working in the Big Bend country; but the four working on the Consolidation are taking out good pay, the April dividend being $1,400. On Saturday Mr. Laform brought down $2,400 worth of gold dust to Revelstoke, and on the trip before $1,100.

The celebration at Kaslo of Queen Victoria's birthday promises to be a great occasion. The prizes are liberal, and there is enough rivalry between the residents of Nelson and Kaslo to make the leading events worth witnessing.

A fire on Sunday afternoon damaged J. O. Buchanan's residence to the extent of $400. The firemen did good work and were ably assisted by the citizens.

The young men of Nelson who are inclined to athletic sport, rather than to sports political, met in the Board of Trade room on Friday night and completed the organization of the Nelson Athletic Association. John Elliott, president; John Houston, vice president; G. A. Bigelow, secretary; and G. W. B. Heathcote, treasurer.

(From the Nelson Miner.)

The people of N-kuep have raised nearly $400 for the celebration at that place on the 24th.

J. Ogden Grahame, of Kamloops, factor of the Hudson's Bay Company for the Yale district, spent several days in Nelson this week. He is confident that the present business depression is but temporary, and that there will be a change for the better within the year.

On Friday last Cultus Jim, an Indian from Colville, Wash., crossed over to Revelstoke, and with his companions endeavored to drive off some white men who had settled on what, though Canadian territory, they claimed to be their land, the result being that he was shot through the heart by Sam Hill. Cultus Jim had a hard name, while Mr. Hill was a most industrious man who bore an excellent character.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith

Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Is the centre for the Silver-Lead Mining Industry of the famous Slocan Region, which is now sending $75,000 worth of Ore to Kaslo per week for shipment to the American smelters.

The right of way for the Kaslo-Slocan Railway has been cleared, and the bridge foundations have been put in place, so that the work of grading and track-laying may proceed at the earliest possible moment after the snow disappears.

The Kaslo-Slocan Region has many mines which, even at the present low price of silver, bring a return of $100 to the ton. Mining men from all parts of the world say that it is the richest silver district known. The progress of development work in the mines verifies this statement.

Thousands of men will be employed in these mines. The natural base of supplies is Kaslo, which is admirably adapted for the purpose, being a beautiful townsite, situated on a bay possessing excellent shipping advantages.

The growth of Kaslo last year was very considerable. It is now an incorporated town, having a population of 2,000 people. That this population will be doubled before the end of the present year is unquestioned.

Kaslo offers to investors a most promising field. The opening up of the mines tributary to it must build up Kaslo. The development of these mines is now in progress. Many others will be worked as soon as easily accessible. An investment in a Kaslo lot and in improving the same will bring good results.

The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Co. control the original townsite. They are offering all property at reasonable prices and upon easy terms of payment. All inquiries for particulars will be promptly and fully answered.

The Victoria and Sidney Railway Co
Want Progress Certificates Issued.

To Advertise for an Electric Plant
Site—By Laws Finally Passed.

All the members of the City Council were present at the regular weekly meeting last evening, over which Mayor Teague presided. In regard to the Victoria & Sidney Railway, the City Engineer wrote that he had notified Mr. J. H. Gray, chief engineer of the railway, on May 8, that in conformity with a notification received from the City Clerk, he would refuse to certify to any work performed by the company until provision be made for having free access to the water main. The letter explained that in accordance with a resolution of the Council passed August 13, 1893, an amount of 10 per cent. of the amount on deposit at the bank had been retained for the completion of the road fully equipped. He enclosed a letter from Mr. Gray as follows:

VICTORIA, May 21, 1894.
E. A. Wilmet, City Engineer.
SIR:—I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 8th instant in which you refuse to sign further certificates for completed work until such time as free access is given to the water main at the railway crossing in section 33. I regret that the arrangement proposed in my letter on March 1 was not acceptable, but since the resolution passed by the City Council specifies that the provisions in this case shall be to your satisfaction I would request that you submit a plan or sketch of what in your opinion would be requisite at the point in question, that I may lay it before my company. This request, as my part must not be taken as admitting the advisability of extraordinary construction at this crossing, and I but express the opinion of the railway company in saying that we feel that the forward condition of the works does not justify the retention of so disproportionate a sum (some $27,000.00) against the settlement of the small item of detail alleged in your letter, and further that this refusal to issue a certificate places unjustifiable obstacles in the way of the company fulfilling its covenants for the construction of the railway. Under the impression that you are desirous of having the line completed before the funds are withdrawn, I would suggest that Mr. Kains and yourself join with me in making an estimate of the cost of putting the whole railway in a state of completion for the provincial inspection and in accordance with the plans recorded that this cost be deducted from the amount to the company's credit and a certificate be issued for the balance. Such a solution of the present difference would be quite acceptable to this company. Finally, I would request that you name an early date to examine the data I shall submit. I may add that this progress certificate would not have been called for had not unforeseen delays occurred in settling our right of way.
(Sd.)
J. H. GRAY,
Chief Engineer.

ALD. HARRIS moved that the City Engineer be instructed to go over the work and estimate the cost of completing the road from its present condition, this cost to be deducted from the amount to the company's credit, certificates to be issued for the balance.

ALD. WILSON's amendment that the engineer make the estimate and report was carried.

The City Assessor reported on the proposed widening of Cadboro Bay road that he had only received a reply from some of the proprietors, and asked for further time.

W. Clark wrote complaining that flowers planted on a grave at Ross Bay cemetery had been dug up by the roots and stolen. Referred to the cemetery committee.

The request of the firemen for leave to use part of Yates street for their tournament on Saturday was granted.

J. P. Walls wrote asking $100 compensation for injuries done by a loose electric wire to a horse owned by Charles Minckler.

ALD. MUNN explained that it was a tramway wire that was to blame, and the clerk was instructed to send a copy of the letter to the tramway company and notify Mr. Walls.

The returns of the votes on the sewerage, hospital and exhibition grounds were received from the returning officer and filed.

The City Engineer and City Assessor reported that they had visited Mr. Steinberger's premises at Elk lake and found no damage done to the buildings. If the house had to be moved, however, it would cost $654. Received and a copy ordered sent to Drake, Jackson & Helmcken, Mr. Steinberger's legal advisers.

The Union Gun Club asked permission to have the Queen's Birthday celebration shooting match next Thursday at Beacon Hill. Granted, under supervision of the Park committee.

ALD. STYLES moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson, to advertise for sites for the electric light plant, lots to be on the shore line between the outer harbor and Point Ellice bridge—tenders to be in by Monday next. Carried.

The Mayor, Ald. Wilson, Dwyer, Humphreys and Baker, were named the Board of Revision for the year.

The Finance committee reported recommending payment of accounts totalling $2,103.15. Adopted.

The electric light committee reported, asking that an amount of copper wire be ordered at once for the new work.

ALD. MUNN explained that the price of copper was rapidly advancing and it was considered best to order at once.

ALD. KITH WILSON thought that the proper way was to call for tenders.

After considerable discussion the matter was laid over till next week.

The sewerage committee's report on minor matters was adopted. The sewerage, hospital and exhibition loan by-laws were reconsidered and finally passed.

ALD. MUNN had seen in the public press that the council had signified its intention of appointing three sewerage commissioners. He had been at no meeting where the council had passed any such resolution.

ALD. STYLES had understood that the council had unanimously agreed upon the men after last council meeting. It was done to assist the passage of the by-law.

ALD. HUMPHREYS said that the council had certainly adjourned to the committee room for the purpose of deciding upon commissioners to be appointed; Ald. Munn was the only alderman not present.

ALD. DWYER asking that the water by-law be brought up to-morrow (Tuesday) the council adjourned till that evening.

GREEN, WORLOCK & CO.

The Court Replaces Assignees Heisterman and Coltart by Hon. Robert Beaven.

The position of Wm. Smyth for the removal of Messrs. Heisterman and Coltart, two of the assignees of Green, Worlock & Co.'s bank, came up again yesterday before Mr. Justice Walkem.

The assignees had not been given an affidavit by the secretary of the result of Friday's meeting, but Mr. Helmcken for the assignees admitted the meeting to have been in favor of the petition.

The Court, alluding to the meeting, said that the statement was incorrect that the judge had been consulted about holding such a meeting. There was no consultation, but in Chambers in the presence of Mr. Bodwell he had intimated to Mr. Fell that he did not wish a score or more of affidavits presented to him to settle the question as to which side had the majority of creditors, and Mr. Fell had then stated that the assignees had called a meeting to set that matter at rest. He had then stated that that was the best thing that could be done. In fact he still thought that the assignees were well advised in calling the meeting.

Mr. Fell was glad His Lordship had mentioned the matter, as at the meeting on Friday the assignees had been accused of attempting to forestall the action of the Court, whereas, as a matter of fact, the assignees' intention had been to ascertain the facts so as to present them to the Court and to avoid an appeal and further costs by having both sides in accord. He added that when he had stated at the meeting that petitioner's solicitor and the Court were aware that the meeting was to be called he was contradicted.

His Lordship having asked if Mr. Beaven would be willing to act and Mr. Bodwell replying in the affirmative, remarked that the result of the meeting would be a guide to him, and that he would be considering the wishes of the creditors in making the order wished for. Nothing had been alleged or proved against Messrs. Heisterman or Coltart, but it was simply the wish of the creditors that they be removed. He supposed that as business men the creditors knew better than he what they wanted. The question of remuneration for the assignees could be settled between the solicitors of both sides, or failing that by the Court, costs of both sides to be paid by the estate.

Mr. Bodwell asked that the assignees pay costs.

His Lordship, however, held that nothing had been charged against the assignees. They had not been guilty of wrong doing, and the petitioners would have had to come before the courts in any case. The assignees had acted within their rights and were entitled to costs out of the estate.

Later in the afternoon the counsel on both sides met to discuss the question of the remuneration of the retiring assignees, and the matter will be disposed of this morning when the order comes up before Mr. Justice Walkem for settlement.

THE SALVATION CITADEL.

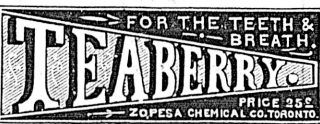

It Will Be Erected on Fort Street and Cost Upwards of $12,000—Practical Relief for Unemployed—A Salvation Launch.

At the Salvation Army meeting on Sunday afternoon the scheme of a citadel for this city was regularly launched. The meeting was a very successful one, from a financial as well as other standpoints. A site has been selected on Fort street, between Douglas and Blanchard and opposite the old Philharmonic hall. This will cost $5,500, and the proposed building will involve the expenditure of an additional $7,000 to $8,000. This will contain of a large room for the regular meetings of the Army designed to seat about 800 people. In the basement will be smaller rooms for the local corps work. To the new building will be attached quarters for the officers, and the divisional war office and general headquarters for British Columbia.

Application will be made for permission to work in the various jails throughout the Province, and employment agencies will be established at several points. One scheme which is rather unique will be the securing of a timber limit to which will be taken men who are not able to withstand the temptations of the city. Business men will be provided with tickets which entitle the bearer to a meal or lodging, and have been found far more successful than the use of money in private charity.

Among the plans for the immediate future is the purchase of a steam launch for use in the waters of this coast. There are many points along the coast where the town is too small to support an officer constantly, and for such places the launch is specially designed. It will be officered by a regular staff and a band will be included in all voyages. Trips will be made to all points both on the Island and Mainland as far north as practicable, and at sufficiently close intervals to sustain the interest in the work.

Small Lot Household Furniture, Stove and Pipes, Crockery, etc., etc. Utensils,

This Property Is within easy distance of many of the most important Gold, Silver and Coal Mines in West Kootenay. The population of this district will increase this year by at least 10,000; the area of farm land is very limited, and from this it may be fairly asserted that beef and all classes of farm produce will find a ready and lucrative market. The soil is the best bottom land, and the locality is one of the few places in the Province where so large a piece of good farm land can be found in one block. A river runs through the property, and rainbow trout are plentiful and afford capital sport. Deer abound in considerable numbers. Bear, Wolf, Coyote and other large game are to be found in the hills. There are two creeks recorded and belonging to the estate, one flows all the year round. Limestone and brick clay are to be had in the valley.

The Cattle are well bred; a much larger herd could be farmed with the place. The bunch grass on the hills in the vicinity covers many thousands of acres, and is available to the few land owners in the valleys. All buildings and fences about the farm are a good order, and farming operations can be gone on with at once; about 180 acres of ploughing have been, so far, provided for this year's work.

The Climate Is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

The Title Is by grant from the Crown, and is free of all encumbrances. Immediate possession can be given.

Important Railway works are now in progress within moderate distance, and two railway lines have been run to pass close to or through the estate, which can be reached in the spring in three days' journey from Victoria.

The South West Kootenay District, British Columbia, is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

A SHAMELESS SLANDERER.

Mr. Thor. Forster, M.P.P., has, we see, been speculating at a political meeting in New Westminster. In the course of his remarks he spoke of the Royal Commission. We wonder that he had the assurance to mention the name of the Court of Inquiry before which he had not the honesty or the manliness to appear. He was bold enough to make accusations in the Legislative Assembly, but when the opportunity was given him of showing that he had reasonable grounds for those accusations he had not the courage either to make them good or the honesty to confess that they were preferred for political effect without a particle of evidence to sustain them.

We had a better opinion of Mr. Forster than to believe that he would be a member of a slanderous conspiracy who would be as bold as brass when they could prefer their charges without having to prove them, but would be too cowardly and too mean to put in an appearance before a tribunal specially appointed to find out whether they were true or not. It is difficult to imagine men acting in a more cowardly and a more contemptible way than Mr. Forster and his associates (except the Hon. Mr. Beaven) did and are doing with respect to the Commission which their own accusations made necessary. One would think that Mr. Forster would blush with shame whenever he heard the words "Royal Commission" uttered. The part which he played with respect to that Commission will be a disgrace to him in the estimation of all fair-thinking and fair-dealing men as long as his name is remembered in the community.

It is said that considerations of expense prevented Mr. Forster's appearance before the Royal Commission. We do not believe this to be true. Mr. Forster is not so poor that he cannot afford to come to Victoria at his own expense, and he is not so wanting in intelligence that he does not know that if he did appear before the Commission, as he was in honor bound to do, the Government would be obliged to pay his expenses. The true cause of his keeping away we are convinced is that he had nothing to say, and that he was unwilling to make the honest confession before the Judges that he had no evidence to produce.

A VOICE FROM THE MAINLAND.

The Times of this city has become an echo of the loud and absurd boasting of the Opposition organs on the Mainland. The following extract from the Westminster Daily News shows that it has been either foolishly credulous or is, knowing the true state of affairs, whistling to keep up its own courage and that of its readers:

"The confident attitude of the Victoria Times, in view of all the facts to the contrary, in its prognostications as to the strength of both parties on the Mainland and especially that portion of it contained within the District of New Westminster, is commendable as to its hopefulness and amusing as to its lack of knowledge of the true state of affairs. The Times would be surprised to know that this district is just as safe for the Government as any portion of the Island. We apprehend that the Times is aware of this fact, but we cannot but admire its tone even in the midst of despair, with nothing to draw from but a forlorn hope. The Times, jocularly we presume, remarks that the Government makes no effort in this direction, inasmuch as it feels confident of defeat, and that nothing can be done to prevent the raging storm from destroying everything in its way."

THE SERBIAN REVOLUTION.

The revolution in Serbia is in all probability the beginning of troubles for the young King Alexander. He is not yet eighteen years of age, but he has been King for more than five years. His father, Milan, abdicated in March, 1889, and Alexander, although not quite thirteen years old, was declared his successor. The boy wore his honors modestly at first, but of late years he has come under the influence of his father, who is by no means a good guide for any one, young or old, and the present revolution appears to be the consequence. Not long ago Alexander dismissed his ministers in an arbitrary way. He was evidently not satisfied with the power he possessed under the constitution, and now he has taken a reactionary step which will no doubt be resented by a large proportion of the people. It is not very easy for the sovereign of any country in these days to go back a quarter of a century. The men who have lived under popular institutions and who have exercised new political privileges will not willingly return to a time when the king had the power of appointing one-third of the members of what ought to be the popular branch of the legislature, and to take up modes of election which have become obsolete.

It is said that Russia is at the bottom of most of the political movements in Serbia. Queen Natalie, the King's mother, is a Russian and it is said that she has been most of her married life intriguing in the interest of the Czar. This was one of the causes of disagreement between her and her husband, who did not live happily together and who were separated many years ago. It will no doubt be said that Alexander is under the influence of Russia and that he depends upon the power of Russia to enable him to resist the enemies whom he will make by his present action.

THE FRENCH TREATY.

The Canadian Gazette (London) is more than usually vigorous when commenting upon the opposition that the ratification of the French treaty is likely to meet with in the Parliament of the Dominion. It is strongly in favor of the treaty and gives its reasons for advocating its ratification. This is the greater part of what it says on the subject in its issue of May 4:

Have Canadian politicians so little else to fight about that they must drag such a question as the ratification of the Franco-Canadian treaty into the mire of party contests? There can be no question of principle in dispute. Politicians of every shade of opinion make the platforms of Canada ring at election times with demands for means of extending Canada's trade with the outside world, and on this broad basis of the desirability of reciprocal commerce there is everything to commend the treaty to the acceptance of the great majority of the electorate. Groups may be found here and there to oppose it, and what conceivable measure would not have its sectional opponents? The extreme temperance party fear an increased import of light French wines, and short-sighted though their position may be, it is bona fide. So is that of the handful of wine growers in the Niagara peninsula. But the trading community generally can take a larger view of the question, and they must see how much Canada has to gain by the freer admission of her lumber and other products to a market of 38 millions of people. In return for concessions which involve on present trade a reduction of less than $50,000 in Canadian revenue, Canada secures the minimum French tariff on many classes of goods, such as canned meats, condensed milk, apples, building timber, wood pavement, wood pulp, prepared skins, furniture, flooring, and wooden sea-going ships. The United States does a large trade with France in these very commodities, and enjoys under the McKinley treaty the minimum duties which Canada would secure by the new arrangement. Some indication of the benefits to be derived from it is given in the 1893 report of the British Consul at Bordeaux. It is there noted that Norwegian and Russian wood imports into France were kept up to their average annual figure, because they are subject only to the French minimum tariff rates, whereas wood and other imports from Canada are hampered by the highest or maximum duties. Then, adds the Consul: "It seems certainly desirable for the interests both of the Canadian timber trade and other branches of production that a modification in the existing French duties on Canadian produce should soon be arrived at; and considering that an arrangement has, in fact, been already concluded to that effect between the Canadian and French Governments, which only remains to be ratified by the legislative assemblies of both countries, it must be hoped that this latter event will take place without further delay." We commend this extract to Canadian legislators.

There will no doubt be a very strong opposition to the ratification of the treaty both in the House of Commons and in the Dominion generally. The temperance people are strongly opposed to the lowering of the duty on French or any other wines, and they are by no means sure that there will be any counter-balancing benefits worth speaking of.

A RUDE AWAKENING.

One can hardly help feeling sorry for Coxey, whose dream has been so rudely dispelled. When he set out on his journey he doubtless believed that when he arrived in Washington he would be in a position to present his petition impressively, and that it would be sure to receive the serious attention of Congress. If he had been told that he would arrive there with a handful of followers, would be treated like a common vagrant, and sent to prison on a police court charge, he would have laughed the prediction to scorn. Coxey has caused a disturbance in the United States. Many have come to grief in trying to follow his example. It can hardly be said that he has done any good to the class which he no doubt sincerely desires to serve. The unemployed in the United States are as numerous to-day as they were when he began his march to Washington, and no one has found a cure for the evils which he tried to remedy. There are, however, many in the States who are seriously alarmed at the demonstrations made and the offences committed by the Coxeyites. A strong feeling has been raised against them which has found expression in the newspapers, many of which at first looked upon Coxey and his followers and imitators with indulgence. The San Francisco Chronicle, among others, has lost patience with them, and calls vigorously for their suppression. It says:

It is time for a period to be put to all this nonsense and humbug. That times have been hard, that an era of business depression has prevailed, that many men have been out of work, and that wages in many kinds of employment have been reduced, must be admitted, but all this furnishes no excuse for the gathering of the unemployed at Washington, whether to present a "petition in boots," or to seek to menace and overawe Congress. Congress, as the Chronicle has explained patiently and carefully, cannot make law, nor can it give away money, and if the so-called industrialists persist in their senseless crusades, especially if they employ violence to aid them in their foolish plans, they should be arrested as vagrants and criminals, and taught by a few sharp and severe lessons that they, in common with all the people of this country, must obey the laws of the land. It is charitable to believe that the movement is a craze, but even so, it is not permissible to allow dangerous lunatics to be at large.

It is not what its proprietors say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

THE CITY.

The council of the Board of Trade meet this morning at 11 o'clock.

The alimony case of Mendorf v. Mendorf was adjourned yesterday till this morning.

The Provincial police yesterday arrested George Alexander of the schooner Triumph on a charge of desertion. He will likely be tried this morning.

The Orange Amateur Dramatic Club's ball premises to be well attended on Wednesday night in the Philharmonic Hall, the sale of tickets being very large.

The congregation of Emmanuel Baptist church last evening enjoyed with their friends the third of the series of national songs, Ireland's songs and stories comprising the musical and literary programme, and Irish dainties monopolizing the refreshment tables.

In the Provincial court yesterday, James Mullins was charged with an aggravated assault on one Kwong Wo, whom he struck with a shovel. The defence was that the Chinaman was the aggressor and that the blow was struck in self defence. A decision will be arrived at to-day.

YESTERDAY afternoon Mr. Justice Drake made an order in the case of Parsons v. the Victoria & Sidney railway, continuing a general injunction against the railway subject to defendants' right to move on twenty-four hours notice. Mr. Thornton Fell for plaintiff; Messrs. Bodwell & Irving for defendant.

The steamer Quadra returned from Cape Beale on Sunday evening, whither she had gone on Friday last in connection with the death of the lightkeeper, Mr. Cox. The remains were taken to Alberni on Saturday by the Quadra and were there interred, the officers of the steamer acting as pallbearers, and Rev. Mr. Smith conducting the funeral services.

AMONG the guests at the Driad are Lord Herbert Scott, son of the Earl of Eldon, Hon. H. D. Dalrymple, son of the Earl of Stair, and Hon. M. W. Elphinstone, son of Lord Elphinstone, whose father was a Lord in waiting to Her Majesty and visited Canada at the time of the visit of the Prince of Wales, and also during the stay of H.R.H. the Marchioness of Lorne.

MR. ALEXANDER VYE, the Government steel clothier, regrets that his front plate glass was not boiler iron. A bold bad man and a rock did the business, and when Mr. Vye came down yesterday morning he found his window in fragments and several suits of clothing and small goods missing to the amount of $75. This is probably number two in the plans of the gang that are preparing to run the town during the holiday season.

THE funeral of the late Mrs. A. F. McCrimmon took place Sunday afternoon from her husband's residence, 403 Vancouver street, and was largely attended. Dr. Campbell officiating. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, including a wreath each from Messrs. D. McIntosh, G. W. McLeod, and Otto Bahlman, Miss Robinson, Mrs. Thos. Cuttman and Mrs. Cread, a sickle, Mrs. G. W. McLeod; crosses from Mrs. M. Bentley and Mrs. McDermott, besides many others. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. W. McLeod, Thos. Huff, B. Cameron, D. J. McIntosh, J. T. Bathune and Henry N. McDermitt.

THE musical attractions for this evening are numerous and notable. At Institute hall the faculty and pupils of the Conservatory of Music will present an exceedingly choice programme, a feature of which will be the first appearance in Victoria of Mr. Anton Zillm, for several years concert master of Theodore Thomas' orchestra, and a solo violinist of note; he is to play the Beethoven Concerto. Miss May Heathfield is to sing the famous aria from the "Barber of Seville," and Miss Sharpe and Miss Walker are to play a selection in unison on two pianos. The performance of "The Creation" and "Hear My Prayer" at the Metropolitan Methodist church in aid of the B. C. Benevolent Society should also draw well; the soloists are Miss Nellie Devereux, Miss Wey, Miss Jameson, Mr. J. G. Brown and Mr. W. Edgar Buck. Madame Laird will also be heard in one of her choicest solos; Mrs. Drury and Mr. Bridgeman will preside at the organ. At Christ Church cathedral schoolroom "Aladdin, or the Wonderful Scamp," the scarf dance and the fancy drills, given a few evenings ago with so great success under Mr. Stevenson's direction, will be repeated, doubtless with equal satisfaction to those who attend.

THE case of Jackson against Jackson & Mylius, which has now been before the courts for over a year, was yesterday decided by the Supreme Court of Canada in favor of the defendant, Celia Mylius, the judgment of the highest court in the land reversing that of Mr. Justice Crease in the court below, and of the Full Court of British Columbia, with all costs. The reasons for the judgment are not yet available, but word has just been received from Ottawa by Belyea & Gregory, solicitors for the appellant, that the appeal was "allowed on all grounds." The history of the case of Jackson v. Jackson & Mylius has been one continued fight so far as the defendant, Celia Mylius, is concerned. In the first place judgment was signed against her in default of pleadings. The defendant applied to set aside this judgment on the grounds that the defence was not due, but the application was disallowed by Mr. Justice Crease. An appeal was then taken to the Divisional court, where it was allowed, but without costs. The case then proceeded to trial before Mr. Justice Crease, when judgment was given for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed with costs. On appeal to the Full court the amount of the judgment was reduced by one-half, no costs to either side, the court offering to set aside the judgment and grant a new trial on payment of all costs up to date. This offer was declined and an appeal was taken to the Supreme court at Ottawa, which has now allowed the appeal with

TEN TERRIBLE DAYS.

Caulbeck and Hughes, Two Sealers, Face Death From Hunger and Cold.

Rescued by Indians When all Hope Was Gone—Not Yet Recovered.

The Jubilee hospital yesterday opened its doors to receive two men who are suffering from an experience the like of which fortunately falls to few. They are Charles Caulbeck and William Hughes, members of the crew of the sealing schooner Favorite, which returned from her cruise, yesterday morning.

The outlines of the adventures of these men were brought down by the Danube, and have already appeared in the COLONIST. In detail their story is as follows: While lying off Queen Charlotte island Hughes and Caulbeck left the schooner for a hunt. This was in the afternoon of March 9. The day was very fine and the weather apparently so settled that the men drifted along carelessly until they were out of sight of their vessel. Night found them not only out of their bearings but fighting a furious gale which increased in violence as the hours wore away; by morning they were in sight of land, but with such a surf running that all efforts to make a landing proved unavailing.

For seven days they drifted about in their boat, first exhausting the few biscuits they had brought from the schooner, and then depending on a few ducks which they managed to kill. As there was no way to cook these, hunger finally forced them to attempt them raw. Caulbeck managed to force down a few mouthfuls from time to time but Hughes could not keep the food on his stomach and grew weaker day by day. Hope was almost gone when a landing was effected on North island.

Their condition was however but little better here. Their matches were spoiled and, unable to start a fire, they were facing a death combining the horrors of starvation and exposure when on the third day after landing a canoe was sighted a mile or so off shore. By almost superhuman efforts the now dying men managed to get their boat off and drifted out far enough to attract attention. The Indians took them in hand and made a landing at Virago Sound.

Here the Siwash medicine men by applications of hot water to the frozen feet of Hughes and Caulbeck, managed to press a few additional drops into their cup of misery. Mortification had already set in when the men fell into the hands of Rev. Robert Keen, the missionary at Masset, by whom their feet were dressed and all that the limited means would admit of done to alleviate their sufferings.

Caulbeck is only just able to walk, or rather hobble, about now, and Hughes is still unable to stand. The fact that both were young and hardy men alone accounts for their now being alive. Captain McLean, of the Favorite, first learned of the fate of his men through the schooner Annie C. Moore, which had put in at Masset for repairs, and thus were able to report the whereabouts of the men long before given up as dead.

MARINE MOVEMENTS.

In obedience to a command given her on May 6, by the Lieutenant of H.M.S. Hyacinth, the sealing schooner Favorite ('Captain McLean) arrived home yesterday morning, having stayed for Victoria on the same day as she parted with the warship. On the way home she made a brief call at Kyuquot to land her Indians, but otherwise the trip was direct. The schooner was obliged to forfeit her guns to the Hyacinth, although she was not sealing at the time, but making for a school of seals. The schooner Minnie was sighted on the same day with a catch of 160, or just 446 less than the Favorite had below her decks. H.M.S. Pheasant was also heard of on the same day, being reported by the Hyacinth cruising off Kodiak island. The Favorite is now alongside R. P. Rithet's inner wharf where she will discharge her cargo probably to-day.

Among the small craft which came into port Sunday were: The steamers Daisy and Mary Hare from Nanaimo with coal; the steamer Velos from Saanich with cordwood; and the steamer Alert from Ladner's Landing.

The steamer Joan's overhauling was completed yesterday, the vessel being launched from the new marine railroad early in the afternoon. She leaves this morning on her regular run.

The steamship Empress of India is due from Yokohama to-day or to-morrow.

Steamer Maude is due from the West coast to-day.

BABIES HANDICAPPED.

When Fed on Common Foods.

Lactated Food Produces Healthy Development.

The progress and development of the infant is very often handicapped at the very beginning of its career, through ignorance and want of care. When proper nursing from a healthy breast is impossible, it is of the greatest importance to know just what to use in order to sustain and develop life. Every day, every hour, is of the utmost value in the early days of life. The infant should not be merely kept alive; it must make continual progress in growth and general development.

All starchy, heavy and irritable foods should be avoided. Common sense should dictate the use of a food easily digested, easily assimilated, non-forming, and that will not cause bowel disorders. Science has given mothers the well-tested Lactated Food, free from all injurious ingredients, highly nutritious, non-irritating, and suited for the weakest stomach. Physicians admit that Lactated Food is the nearest approach to pure and healthy breast milk, therefore the safest and surest food for the weak and struggling infant.

At this season of the year, it is imperative necessary to use Lactated Food for the baby if mothers desire to preserve their dear ones from fatal summer complaints.

GOVERNMENT POLICY REVIEWED.

How the Era of Hard Times Has Been Tided Over and Depression Relieved

By Expenditure in Needed Public Works—Bright Prospects of Immediate Revival.

We have indicated some of the conditions which affected the development of this Province. We have shown, and it is contended very conclusively, that the policy pursued was in harmony with the expanding elements in our Provincial growth and the only successful policy possible to pursue.

Looking over the controversial issues of politics for the past seven or eight years, we find that until very recently the Government of British Columbia has been blamed more particularly for not going ahead fast enough. Its course has, been described by those now seeking to take the lead in public affairs as "tardy." It has been even designated as the representative of "Mossbackism."

Now, however, since the tide of speculation has been turned or held back, and we have been swept by the tail end of the comet of hard times, the "evil" influences of which have been severely felt in nearly every country in the world, we find these aspiring politicians endeavoring to get astride of the same comet's tail and swing into power, crying that the Government have been too lavish and are bankrupting the Province. The endeavors of such men who, professing to be in favor of development, condemn the spending of money, would indicate some policy of nebulous inflation whereby by a paper fiat they would create money and capital to build up a country without pledging the country's credit for it. Their position is anomalous and preposterous.

The truth is, the Government of British Columbia has been liberal, while conservative. It has made mistakes. What Government has not? Even the "heaven-born financier" who rules the editorial columns of the News-Advertiser, and aspires to be the next Premier, will admit the possibility of even the greatest of men, among whom he modestly classes himself, making mistakes. The Government has spent money where it deemed it necessary, and held back where the burdens of the Province would have been unduly increased. Had it listened to all the demands for expenditure from all quarters, it would have truly bankrupted its resources. Now that hard times are upon us, and the necessity for retrenchment in every line of business is necessary, the wisdom of conservatism in public undertakings in the past is apparent. The result is that while business men have been hauling in sail on all sides, the Government, with unimpaired credit, is able to go ahead, and thus materially ease the financial stringency by carrying on useful public works. During the past two years had it not been for these public works the suffering experienced would have been greatly augmented.

The results of a contrary policy have been strikingly illustrated in the United States, Australia and South America. While times were good the Government in those countries spent money lavishly. When depression set in, their financial resources and credit being crippled, the cessation of payments brought about a general collapse, and the Governments were unable to lend a helping hand, having already depleted their reserve forces. At the close of the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1893, there was a deficit of $44,888,296. This gave a monthly deficit of $6,412,830. If the expenditure goes on exceeding the revenue at this rate to the end of June, there will be a deficit of over $72,000,000. The spectacle of Coxey's army marching on to Washington is unique in history, and exemplifies a condition of affairs brought about by disregard of the lessons of history and the principles of stable government. Coxey's army may be, and undoubtedly is, a "crank" movement, doomed to dismal failure except as a finger-post in United States history and a monument to hard times, but it is a legitimate political product. The Argentine Republic failures were the beginning of the great monetary depression. The Australian collapse set it in full tide, and the American so-called "silver question" was its culmination.

These things all reacted on British Columbia, depending as it did largely on foreign capital, and a very marked progress has been temporarily checked; but the remarkable fact is here to be noted that British Columbia, outside of the Dominion of Canada, South Africa and New Zealand, is about the only Province or country—to speak of it in that respect—which has been able during a period of extreme depression to carry on public works in a greater degree even than before, without impairing its credit or straining its finances. Since the completion of the C.P.R. there has never been such activity in railway construction or so many public works of benefit and necessity as at present in progress, or within the past two years.

The wisdom of the Government has been shown in not having lost its head during good times, and being able during bad times to carry on uninterruptedly a system of wise expenditure. It is during such times as these, when the ordinary avenues of expenditure for private and business purposes are closed up and economies everywhere are effected, that a wise and liberal policy of expenditure is necessary to offset the hardships of labor and tide over the financial difficulties oppressing rich and poor alike. It is not in our case either, as it was in the Province of Quebec, when the Government set the unemployed at work in the old capital to pull down the walls and build them up again in order to supply work. We have unfortunately our unemployed, but in one way or other we have been able to provide them with means of subsistence without resort in any important degree to charity methods. The works carried on by the Province now and in the past have been necessary and useful works, such as would have been justified at any time and all the more welcome now.

It was Sir Leonard Tilley we think who, after inaugurating the National Policy, advised the people of Canada to clap on all sail for the next seven years, because in the cycle of events hard times would come again. His prescience probably was better than his advice. During the boom times our Government did not clap on all sail, but on the other hand, it was said, was over conservative and slow. Had it done so we would not to-day have been in the position to branch out in expenditure when most needed.

Already we see the unmistakable signs of a return of great prosperity in this Province. For some years the lumber industry, which has struggled along against heavy odds, is reviving. The Hastings Mills, one of the leading export mills in the Province, has already chartered ahead sufficient to keep it employed for the rest of the year and is now in full blast. Victoria, for the first time in its history, is loading lumber for foreign markets. Other mills are starting up and the prospects are excellent.

Kootenay has millions of dollars worth of ore in sight, and the Nelson Tribune, we think it was, prophesied that $12,000,000 worth of silver would go out in 1894. By the end of the year it will have three systems of railway, tapping its marvelously rich metalliferous lodes.

One of the largest hydraulic mining propositions in America is materializing in Cariboo, where half a million dollars is being spent by one company, who look for $1,000,000 as the first season's clean-up. On the Fraser, on the Thompson, in the Big Bend country and in many other places, the greatest activity in hydraulic mining is being shown, with prospects of an abundant return.

Another good season in canning salmon is anticipated, and as a successful inauguration of the deep sea fishing has been accomplished, we may look for a steady development of this most important of our resources. In finding a market for our halibut, our fresh salmon and cured fishes of all kinds, the gordian knot has been cut and henceforward the export of fish will be a large one.

There was never a time either in which so much interest has been manifested in our agricultural interests, and now that the element of speculative real estate values has been eliminated, farming seems to have started on a course of legitimate development that cannot but have an important effect in building up the country and making it rich; because any country or Province without the backbone of agriculture must be for all time handicapped in the import of the necessities of life which that industry affords.

With the improvement on freight rates the competition in British and Australian coals will be less keenly felt, and consequently increased demand for British Columbia coal in the American market, which means a substantial revival in that industry, now suffering from a glut in the Coast cities.

In all these respects the outlook is more promising than it ever has been before. There is the promise of legitimate industries on a large scale taking the place of propositions on paper, which in too many instances have failed to answer the expectations of either the promoter or investor. In all these respects, too, the Government has lent a helping hand and given every assistance possible.

The beneficent result of a policy of expenditure in development are being shown and will appear more fully from year to year. The Government did not wait for lumber to get better in price, or mines to be developed, or the fisheries to go ahead, or farming produce to have a surplus, to provide means of communication and project public works. With railways into Kootenay, into the Nicola Valley, into Chilliwack, into the Okanagan Valley, into Cariboo and elsewhere, there is a certain prospect of these various districts attaining to a measure of their opportunities. In other words, the Government has not waited for the times to get good to move in these matters. They have, to drop into metaphor, greased the wheels of Fortune's car in order that she may arrive more speedily. When times do get good again, and as we have said the indications are of that being very soon in this Province, all the facilities for taking advantage of the improved condition

THE CAPTAIN'S REMARKABLE STATEMENT.

He Says: "Paine's Celery Compound Knocks Out the Medical Practitioner."

Encouraging Testimony from a Popular Winnipeg Resident.

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS.

It would be a difficult matter to find one hundred people in the progressive city of Winnipeg, who do not know popular Captain Douglas.

The genial and whole-souled Captain is the proprietor of the famous Leland House, amongst the best appointed of Canada's modern hotels. The weary and dust-stained traveller, who has once experienced the comforts of the "Leland," and the kind attentions of its worthy proprietor, invariably goes back to the popular house when business or pleasure leads him again to the prairie city.

Capt. Douglas is an enthusiastic believer in the efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound. He daily recommends it to his fellow citizens, when they complain of troubles such as rheumatism, weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles and impure blood. The Captain has thoroughly of things will have been supplied and ready to hand, and the Province will be enabled to enter fully and without delay into an unexampled era of prosperity.

In saying what we have so far, it is not with the object of exalting the Government or any of its members into paragons of wisdom or greatness. We do not wish to exempt them from faults or condone their shortcomings on the one hand, or on the other hand to paint their virtues in hues so bright as to give color to their shadows. We believe them to be neither more nor less human than their fellows, and desire simply to credit them with having pursued a policy—defective it may have been in many minor points—which throughout has had a good, sound business basis, was on the whole well carried out, and is now being rewarded with a large measure of success.

tested Paine's Celery Compound for his own troubles in the past, and says without hesitation that the great medicine "knocks out the medical practitioner." It was through the Captain's influence and strong recommendations that Mr. G. Swain, the well-known C. P. R. station-master, of Winnipeg, used Paine's Celery Compound, and found a cure, when the doctors and other medicines had failed to banish his rheumatism.

Captain Douglas, in order to encourage and benefit Canadians, writes as follows:—

"It gives me very great pleasure to say a word in favor of your excellent preparation known as Paine's Celery Compound. I was troubled for some time with indigestion and dyspepsia, and the general feeling of lassitude, all of which have been banished after using your Compound. I can recommend it with confidence to all who need such a valuable tonic."

In a later letter regarding his success with nature's health-restorer, the Captain says:—

"You know well what I think of Paine's Celery Compound. It is a most valuable medicine, and I can truly bear testimony to its excellent restorative and invigorating qualities; in fact, it knocks out the medical practitioner. A person has only to use it to know its worth to the human family."

"Through its use I now feel like a boy, and may Paine's Celery Compound long live to go on with its good work. I am pleased to lend my name to the grand work of extending a knowledge of this valuable Compound, and can never say too much in its favor, and you may be sure I shall never cease to sing its praises."

DIED.
JACKSON—On Sunday evening, at St. Joseph's Hospital, after a brief illness, George Edward, third son of the late E. H. Jackson, Esq., a native of Victoria, B.C., aged 23 years.
The funeral will take place on Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m., from the family residence, corner of Cook street and Hillside avenue, and at St. John's church at 3 o'clock. Friends will please accept this intimation.

PERSONAL.
Mr. King is back from the Sound.
Dr. J. M. Lefebvre, Vancouver, is at the Diarr.
B. J. Short, Vancouver, is a guest at the Oriental.
J. P. M'Leod came over by the Islander last night.
C. Evers and P. Dewansap, of Seattle, are in the city.
Thos. E. Ladner, Ladner's Landing, is a guest at the Diarr.
Rev. B. Haslam, Wellington, is registered at the New England.
John Maher, manager of the Nanaimo opera house, is in town.
Hon. Theodore Davis returned home by the Islander Sunday night.
Rt. Rev. Bishop Perrin returned home from Duncan by the noon train yesterday.
John W. Hanna, manager of the Tacoma opera house, with Mrs. and Miss Hanna, is in the city.
A. M. Raymond, E. Lindner, E. Tobian, A. Multon and M. B. Meane, Chicago, are guests at the Victoria.
Charles F. Heath, Lowell, Mass., and J. R. T. Bullen, Westminster, are among the guests at the Diarr.

C. A. Holland, H. V. Galpin and C. A. Rattray, were passengers to Victoria by the Islander from Vancouver Sunday evening.

THE Natural History Society had an interesting meeting last evening, when several specimens were handed in and two new members elected. Mr. Stevenson gave a half-hour's talk on the economic value of the eider duck, which he believed could be naturalized on this coast, and he advocated the experiment. The conditions, he thought, were favorable, and in Iceland, as was well known, the eider duck was the source of considerable profit to the inhabitants. Mr. Stevenson gave a number of interesting particulars as to its habits, promising to elaborate the subject at a future meeting.

Economy and Strength.
Valuable vegetable remedies are used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla in such a peculiar manner as to retain the full medicinal value of every ingredient. Thus Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength and is the only remedy of which 100 Doses One Dollar is true. Be sure to get Hood's.
Hood's Pills do not purge, pain or gripe, but act promptly, easily and efficiently.

THE CARNIVAL AT HAND.
First of the Holiday-Makers Arrive from the Sound—The Seattle Yachts Here.
Regatta Programme Completed and Entries In—Notes of the Celebration.

THE Puget Sound yachtsmen who last year assisted so heartily in making the Queen's Birthday celebration in Victoria the great success that it assuredly was, promise to "leave nothing undone" this week that will contribute to a duplication of the triumph of "twenty-three." Already several of their fleet are at anchor in the harbor, while owners, skippers and crews are discussing with the local yachtsmen the knotty points of measurements, course and cruising rules, with adjournment to consult the authorities. The first of the flotilla rounded the harbor entrance shortly after noon yesterday, and was a few minutes later at anchor—the Raiter, Captain W. C. Heilbron, one of the swiftest of the Seattle fleet. After her came the Kelpie (Commodore Fred. E. Sanders' flagship), the well known Edna M., the sloop rigged rigged Foam, the Doris, the Bremerton and the Earl—all flying the Seattle yacht club's colors. Old friends and new acquaintances—all are welcome, and the people of Victoria wish everyone, from club by to commodore, a merry week, which they will do their best to provide.

This creditable fleet rendezvoused at West Seattle on Saturday night, and weighed anchor at 9:30 a.m. Sunday morning at a signal from the commodore. Heading for Port Townsend, more than half the distance was covered with fair though light wind in a drizzling rain, which gave out just as the flotilla approached Point No Point. There the "tide-rips" gave all hands considerable exercise before they were succeeded by a fair breeze which took the yachts into Townsend. There they remained at anchor until 4:30 yesterday morning, when the Kelpie took the lead and the race to Victoria commenced. The strong wind dying to a light breeze, soon gave the Raiter and the Edna M. an advantage over their deep draft rival, whom they crept up to and passed. Then came a variation (not agreeable) in the form of dense fog, through which all hands steered by chart and compass, nor were permitted to see each other until the cloud bank lifted, to disclose the Edna M. in the lead and just off the San Pedro wreck. In her wake was the Kelpie, steering straight for the harbor and not a foot out of her course, with the Raiter off to leeward and taking advantage of the current. The tide was running out and so the fleet did not enter harbor until all aboard had lunched; the remainder of the day was spent in entertaining callers from the city, holystoning the decks and preparing generally for the coming carnival of sport and pleasure.

The Kelpie (the commodore's craft) is the largest yacht on the Sound and the most heavily built, drawing eight feet of water. Her great draft of water of course fits her admirably for deep sea service and makes her very secure; with a full gale blowing she can "beat 'em all," consequently her skipper and his crew hope for big winds on the racing day. Commodore Sanders has sailing with him this time Messrs. Alvin Galley, Carl Siebrand, H. E. Emons, N. W. Bolster, Will Carson, B. H. Culby, and E. C. Cawley.

Unlike these gentlemen, the Raiter's people are whistling for light breezes, for there they are strong. Since last summer the Raiter has been generally overhauled, changed from schooner to sloop-rig, and given a largely increased area of sail. With this in light wind she can run away from Kelpie & Co., and this is what is expected of her by Messrs. W. C. Heilbron (captain and owner), W. P. Skillings, Col. C. G. Lyons, Paul d'Heirey, Howard W. Baker, Ed. Bauserman, J. H. Johnson, George James, Martin Jensen and A. M. Towle.

The well known Edna M. is sailed this year by her owners, R. B. Spencer and Lester Turner, with a crew composed of Messrs. Jake Wall, Dr. S. G. Hill, E. Lentz, E. J. Sweeney, John Mather, Fred Wayne and Ray Kium. Henry and J. Hensall are in command of the Bremerton, which is looked to for fast time; the crew of the Foam are Messrs. A. C. McLeod (captain), George Stone and Joseph Fellows; while on board the Doris are Captain J. Nelson and Messrs. H. Nugent, A. Nelson, Ed. Jones, Neils Christopher and Ed. French. The crew of the Earl was not obtainable last evening, but will be announced to-morrow. All the yachts now here are fine cruisers and elaborately fitted up for the accommodation of their crews and their guests; unfortunately, neither the Gracie Felitz (last year's winner), the Margery, nor the Nora will be here, the shortness of time preventing them for fitting out for the cruise.

Commodore Barneson and his Port Townsend fleet will very possibly be found in the harbor when the sun rises this morning; they were looked for last night but had not then arrived. From Everett are coming the Storm King (C. E. Montandon and A. R. Whitney, jr.), the Sickle (S. W. Peterson), the Sincere (H. Caddewood) and the Agnes (Ellen Campbell). These were to have left Everett Sunday, and should arrive here early this morning. Boats from Bellingham Bay, Anacortes, Tacoma, Vancouver and other points will follow them in—it will be a great week for yachts and yachtsmen.

REGATTA COMPETITORS.

The Committee Complete Preliminaries—Entries More Numerous Than for Many Years Previous.

The regatta committee held a meeting in the city hall last night, when a number of communications regarding licenses were referred to the Superintendent of Provincial Police, who has discretionary power in all such matters. J. S. Yates granted the usual permission to land on his property and was duly thanked.

After some informal discussion, the committee proceeded to the consideration of entries and the final touches on the programme. The results of their labors are embodied in the following list of entries, which will be but little departed from:

THE NAVY WILL ASSIST
Though a Review Cannot Be Given for a Few Months Yet.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Teague, Ald. Keith-Wilson, Ald. Munn, Mr. J. B. Gordon, Mr. Carmel and Secretary Beaumont Boggs waited upon Admiral Stephenson on the flagship at Esquimalt, with a view to finding out whether the Navy would cooperate in arranging for a field day during the celebration. Owing to the absence of other ships of the fleet and the fact that the Royal Arthur has only just returned to port, the Admiral regretted that he could not see his way to giving a display of the bluejackets ashore just now, for it must be remembered that they have not had any shore leave for a considerable time. However he kindly intimated that later on in the summer, perhaps on Dominion Day, he would give a review of the crews from the warships. The Navy, however, will as usual enter thoroughly into the regatta to be held at the celebration and representatives were sent to the regatta committee meeting last night. H. M. S. Hyacinth is expected to arrive home Wednesday and a good many entries may be expected from her crew as well as the flagship's.

THE CRICKET CLUB BALL.
A Fashionable Event Which Will Be a Picturesque Evening Feature of the Carnival.

Among all the attractions for the holiday season the one which is exciting most interest among the cricketers, and for which most elaborate preparations are being made, is the fancy dress ball of the Victoria cricket club at the Mount Baker hotel Friday evening. Mysterious conferences are being held between members of the fair sex, the subject of which is that interesting topic of dress, and in every business office you hear the query of "What are you going as?" Every variety of costume will probably be represented and 'anachronisms' will be the order of the evening. The assistance of lady friends is being earnestly sought, and many are the schemes made and bows and knots tied by them for their or some one else's brothers.

The Lieut.-Governor, the Admiral and their parties are expected to attend, together with contingents from Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo, and Cowichan ranchers are taking a day off to join the glad throng. Vancouverites will bring a choice selection of the costumes worn there at the recent ball. The decorations are expected to be unique, as sister athletic clubs have most kindly undertaken to contribute, and a pillar in the ballroom has been assigned to each of those clubs which have volunteered to assist. When decorated the pillars will be the rallying point for the particular friends of each club. Among those clubs who have already been assigned pillars are the James Bay Athletic Association, the Canoe Club, the Rugby Football Club, the Tennis and Golf Clubs.

All other arrangements are correspondingly complete; the tramway company promising the best service on record. Mine Host Virtue will use his best efforts in placing the floor in order; and in fact everything is being done to make the affair a perfect success.

GETTING READY.
Progress Reported All Along the Line—Meetings to Be Held to Complete Arrangements.

All city bicyclists, whether affiliated with the C. W. A. or not, are requested to attend a meeting this evening at 7:30 at the music store of M. W. Waite & Co., Government street, to complete arrangements for the butterfly parade and races on the 25th. Though the time for working in is short, still with concerted action and hearty cooperation the bicyclists of Victoria can make the parade, as last year's was, the prettiest feature of the celebration. Everyone should do his or her part (for the ladies are as much interested as the gentlemen), and this being done, success is assured. Visitors are expected from Portland, Tacoma, Northfield, Nanaimo, Vancouver, Seattle, Townsend, Whatcom and Wellington; let the cyclists of Victoria unite, if only for a day, and show them that British Columbia's capital is a wheeling town! Let everybody come to to-night's meeting.

The firemen were out again last night for a practice run on the wet test. This is a Nanaimo invention, and one peculiarly original with that team, which has by the way some expert couple. The test consists of a 300 yards run, hose to hydrant, then second length to be taken out and change places with first length, nozzle and water turned on. Last night the local team succeeded in making this complicated manoeuvre in 50 seconds, as near as could be told without a stop watch.

The A O U. W. have been considering the idea of having the ceremony of laying the corner stone of their new building Thursday, so that the visiting members of the order from the Sound may be present. The matter is not yet settled, however.

A general informal meeting of the Victoria canoe club will be held at the club house at 8 o'clock this evening for a final discussion and arrangement of celebration matters. The secretary of the club has issued a circular to the members, asking them to have their canoes properly decorated for the illumination on Saturday evening, and to meet at the club house with everything in readiness at 8 p.m. of that day.

The reception committee on celebration will hold a meeting this evening for the purpose of perfecting final arrangements and receiving reports from the members who have the various details in hand.

Valuable Freehold Property
THE WOODLANDS ESTATE.
MORTGAGEE'S SALE.
I have been instructed to sell at my salesrooms,
Wharf Street, Victoria,
All those pieces or parcels of land situate lying and being in Victoria District, now City of Victoria, B.C., being portions of Divisions Two and Three of Section 13 in the said District, as shown on the plan filed in the office of the Registrar-General of Titles at Victoria, which said pieces or parcels of land are more particularly described in a certain indenture of conveyance, registered in Victoria 21st January, 1892, in Ab Fee Book, vol. 13, folio 223, No. 1333a.

This property contains 30 acres, more or less and is about two miles from the post office. There is a fine, roomy dwelling house on the property containing 8 rooms, extensive stables, out-houses and a good orchard of about three-quarters of an acre of apples, pears and cherries, etc.

The above property has the following qualifications, viz.:
Beautiful for situation; it cannot be excelled. The view of the Strait is grand. The character of the land first-class. The property is protected by Gonzales Point from the S.E. winds and from S.W. winds by Clover Point, and has a water frontage of about 240 feet.
Foul Bay is one of the loveliest and wisest on the coast for sea bathing, and perfect protection for all winds for boats.
There is no more desirable position for a gentleman's residence than this fine property. There is a good well of pure water and water mill, with about 50 feet of pressure to house and grounds. The city water works are also laid on to this property.
